POISONED BY WOOD ALCOHOL

J. P. Huffman, Former Rushville Merchant Dies After Drinking Deadly Ingredient.

FAMILY SAYS BY MISTAKE

Marion County Coroner Declares he Committed Suicide—Sister-in-Law Lives Here.

J. P. Huffman, an Indianapolis lumber dealer for several years and formerly a grocer of this city who was well known by many people here, died about nine o'clock last night at his home in the Knickerbocker, Indianapolis, from wood alcohol poisoning. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Minnie Abercrombie here.

According to today's Indianapolis Star, the coroner of Marion county, following an investigation, asserted that Mr. Huffman had committed suicide and that business trouble was the cause of the act. Members of the family maintain that he had taken the poison by mistake. He had been in ill health for about eight months because of a stroke of paralysis and had not been able to attend to his business.

The poison Mr. Huffman drank was obtained from a drug store near the Knickerbocker, where he purchased a 15-cent flask. He was found, just after lunch time, by Mrs. Huffman, who had been out of her husband's room for some time. The bottle that had contained the poison was found empty and it is believed he drank its entire contents.

Mrs. Huffman found her husband lying insensible on a couch and ran screaming for help. Dr. C. B. McCulloch was called and later several other physicians were summoned for a consultation. It was apparent from the first that Mr. Huffman's life could not be saved. He died without regaining his senses.

Mrs. Abercrombie received word of the misfortune about two o'clock yesterday afternoon and immediately went to Indianapolis. She was at his bedside when he died.

The Indianapolis Star says that Mr. Huffman has been a resident of Indianapolis twenty years, but Rushville people say this is a mistake. They say it has not been more than fifteen years since Mr. Huffman had a grocery store in the room where the O. C. Brann store is now located. He was born and reared in Lebanon, but lived here many years before moving to Indianapolis and engaging in the lumber business.

The Star says he is survived by a widow, three sons and one daughter, but people here who know the Huffman family say it is just the opposite. There are three daughters and one son.

Mr. Huffman had lived at the Knickerbocker for about five years. He maintained offices in the Castle Hall Building and was devoted to his business until the stroke of paralysis several months ago.

The funeral services will be held at the late residence in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and the remains will be brought to this city, arriving here at 3:30 o'clock over the C. H. & D. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Thomas McWhinney of this city had his house painted and it improves the looks of the residence very much.

FIRST WHEAT CUT TODAY

Binder is Driven Into Field on George Weeks Farm.

Probably the first wheat cut in Rush county in 1914 was cut today on the farm of George Weeks southwest of the city. Ras. Martin lives on the farm. Last week a number of farmers predicted that some wheat would be cut this week. The fields ripened rapidly last week. The hot sun from day to day caused the harvest to come a little earlier than usual. Farmers believe that the yield this year will be above the average of the last few years. The acreage, however, in Rush county is not said to be quite as large as last year.

CONVENTION CLOSES TODAY

Last Session of Annual Meeting of U. P. Missionary Societies is Held This Afternoon.

BEGAN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

The thirty-second annual convention of the missionary societies of the United Presbyterian churches in southern and central Indiana was to close late this afternoon at Milroy. The convention has been in session in the United Presbyterian church there since yesterday afternoon. Business was one of the chief things for this afternoon when the reports of committees were to be heard and the new officers were to be elected. The session was to close with a round table discussion on "Missionary Programs and Problems," conducted by Mrs. Frank Elliott of Springhill.

Most of this morning's session was taken up with reports from the secretaries of the different departments. Toward the close of the program Mrs. John Brice of Witherspoon, Ind., gave an address on the topic, "What the United Presbyterian Church is Doing For the Negro." "My Work in Knoxville College" was the subject of a talk by Miss Mary Fisher. The chief address was made last night by Dr. Kelley Giffen in "Our Mission in Sudan." The afternoon program was taken up yesterday with the welcome address and response, preliminary business and a few short talks.

CONFERENCE IS BIG TALKFEST

L. E. Brown of Fortville is Nominated For State Senator From Three Counties.

What was scheduled as a party conference turned out to be a political talk-fest this afternoon by the Progressives of the Sixth district held in the court house assembly room. The speakers of the afternoon were Albert J. Beveridge, chief assistant Democrat and Bull Moose candidate for the United States senator, E. C. Toner, editor of the Anderson Bulletin and state chairman of the party and Professor Russell, of Earlham college, candidate for congress from this district.

Following the speaking, which ended late this afternoon, the party workers from over the district met with Mr. Beveridge and Toner for a conference and organization work of the party was discussed. With eight counties to draw from in this district, a large crowd was in attendance when the "great friend of the people" arrived on the scene and the crowd clamored for a speech. Mr. Beveridge told the crowd of the great success that awaited the party this fall at the polls. He stated that in his travels over the state, at similar organization meetings, he had never seen such spontaneous outbursts as the people were giving him.

The chief assistant-Democrat confined mot of his speech to a tirade on the Republican and Democratic parties, or "machines," as he called them. He told the crowd that the papers would have the people believe that there was no Bull Moose party, but from his observations he knew the party was up and doing in every county and district in Indiana.

He termed the Progressive cause as the peoples cause and the common people were at last coming to their own. He attempted to show that the formation of the Progressive party was similar to the formation of the Republican party under Lincoln and frequently referred to the Chicago convention of 1912. He was greeted with applause when he stated that the people would rally round the righteous cause as represented by the Progressive banner when it was held over the nation by the next president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Beveridge did not mention the fact that Roosevelt is suffering from throat trouble in London and would not be able to enter the campaign this fall.

In the course of his remarks Beveridge appealed to the old soldiers and the young men of the country. In his reference to the Civil war days and the battles of the old soldiers, Beveridge got very pathetic and if working sympathies of the old soldiers counts for anything the chief assistant Democrat made a great speech.

Beveridge was followed by Toner and Russell. The party workers are insisting on every township and county putting out a full ticket and insist that only by organization can the party efforts count for anything.

This morning the Progressives of Hancock, Rush and Fayette counties met in the assembly room of the court house and held a senatorial convention. L. E. Brown of Fortville, Hancock county, was nominated for state senator without opposition. District chairman Roberts presided at the convention and John Nipp, Jr., acted as secretary.

Owing to the resignation of Cary Jackson, the present senator from this district, a senatorial election this convention but the crowd gpt will be necessary this fall. The counties never selected delegates to together and nominated Brown.

The jury never left the box. The state admitted it had made no case against the boy who killed when he thought his father was about to slay his mother. John Barger was a Monon conductor. BOTH VANDENBARKS ON STAND TODAY

Attorneys Have Some Difficulty Learning What They Want to Know From Mary Vandenberg.

NOTE SUIT STILL IN COURT

The Vandenberg case continues to grind away in the circuit court, and it may not end until the middle of next week. Mrs. Vandenberg was on the stand most of the day. She told of the transactions involved in the case as she witnessed them. Mrs. Vandenberg talked freely on the stand and the attorneys on both sides had considerable trouble getting her to tell just what they wanted to know.

It was expected that Vandenberg would take the stand late this afternoon. Yesterday he was examined and the court ruled that he was competent to testify. He was examined by Attorney Rupe of the plaintiff's side. Mr. Vandenberg answered the questions in a precise manner. A number of depositions were read to the court.

FAILURE IS A POSSIBILITY

White House Admits Today Mediation May Not Be Success.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 18.—For the first time since the Mexican negotiations actually were begun it was admitted at the White House today that there is a possibility of their failure. Hope has not been abandoned, but the fact that the Huerta delegates had issued their side of the negotiation correspondence was admitted to be extremely unfavorable.

A marriage licenses was issued this afternoon to Herbert DuBois, of Connersville and Gladys Weiser, of near Glenwood.

GENERAL VILLA HAS HIS OWN WAY

Breach Between Him and General Carranza is Healed and he is in Command of Troops.

EXPLANATION MADE TODAY

Seized Offices North of Torreon "For the Betterment of the Public Service."

CARRANZA FLEEING?

(By United Press.)

Laredo, Tex., June 18.—A report current across the border here was that General Carranza was fleeing from Mexico as a result of his break with General Villa. The story was not believed to be true.

NO FAITH IN STORY.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 18.—Representative Kent of California said today he had a private dispatch informing him that General Carranza had left Saltillo and was enroute to Laredo, Tex. This was not believed to be correct.

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., June 18.—A correspondent close to General Villa at Torreon today sent the following message as Villa's explanation in seizing all government offices and records north of Torreon:

"For the advancement of the Constitutionalists cause and the betterment of the public service throughout the territory under his control, General Villa determined to fill the minor places in the government service with men who will have nothing to do but the work the public demands of them."

With this came confirmation of earlier dispatches that Villa and General Carranza have made up and that Villa would have his way in the campaign on Zacatecas and begin the attack with himself in supreme command nor later than Sunday.

The breach between Villa and the "first chief" has apparently been patched up. The details of the settlement are not known except that Villa has evidently had his way and that the entire control of the Constitutionalists troops in the field has been recognized by General Carranza.

The Gowdy M. E. church will have a Children's Day program at the church next Sunday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

CHOLERA SERUM NOT APPROVED

Department of Agriculture Denies That Benetol Has Been Sanctioned by Experts.

BULLETIN ON GRASS CUTTING

Department says Cut Grass Frequently and Leave Cuttings
Where They Fall

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 18.—Cut the grass frequently leave the cuttings where they fall and do not use an iron rake unless grass or clover seed is to be planted, is the advice of the Department of Agriculture experts in a bulletin, just issued, on the proper care of lawns.

Landscape gardeners of the Department declare also that lawn mowers should be set high so that the grass will not be cropped close. They declare raking or sweeping disturbs the soil and that if the clipped grass remains where it drops it will form protection to the roots and keep the lawn in good condition during dry weather.

Benetol, an alleged cure for hog cholera, has not been approved by the Department of Agriculture, it was announced today. Articles praising this medicine and sent broadcast throughout the country so worded as to convey the impression that the Department has sanctioned the medicine are declared to be frauds.

"In this connection it may be said," reads the announcement, "that the medicine which is now put forward as good for hogs was advertised some time ago as a means of killing tubercular, typhoid, and cancer germs."

Doctors of the Department say they have no reason to believe in the efficiency of any cure for hog cholera and do not recommend any. Under certain conditions farmers are urged to protect their stock with anti-hog cholera serum.

The problem of farm labor is now being successfully dealt with by the Department of Labor.

Its first step was taken only recently when an effort was made to supply Oklahoma with between 12,000 to 15,000 harvest hands. Through the co-operation of Postmaster General Burleson notices were posted in 10,000 postoffices, telling about Oklahoma's plea for workers for from four to six months this summer. The wages to be paid vary from $3 to $3.50 per day.

Elated by the results of its first experiments the Department of Agriculture today enthusiastically endorsed the "bedding-out" system for western sheep ranges. As the name indicates the herder permits his sheep to sleep wherever the sheep find themselves at nightfall. Formerly all sheep in a given flock were driven to one resting place.

"Through experiments on the national forest ranges," the Department states, "the lambs from bedded out bands were five pounds heavier on an average at the end of the season than those which were trailed to and fro established bedgrounds. The range can carry from 10 to 25 percent more sheep than when so much is trampled out in traveling back and forth.

"Disadvantage to the old system were twofold; those to the forage and those to the sheep. The forage suffered by being trampled badly, and being actually destroyed at and near the bed grounds; the sheep lost weight in going to and from the camps, and in dry weather suffered from dust and crowding.

"Sheepmen have maintained that the close herding system so long in use was necessary to prevent losses from straying, and from the ravages of wolves, coyotes or mountain lions. Experiments of the service show that straying can be prevented, and one band in the Payette forest, Idaho, which grazed in timber and brush practically the entire summer, lost only four head; in this, as in the majority of cases, the loss under the new system was less than under the old one of close herding."

The United States Forest Service has undertaken the reforestation of a large section in Northern Idaho destroyed by forest fires in 1910, to determine whether the destruction of trees decrease the flow of streams.

Residents of Wallace, Idaho claim that the destruction of the forests near there has almost caused a water famine in the locality. The flow of one stream, they declared, was cut from one thousand miners' inches—the unit of measurement—to less than 250 miners' inches.

PENAL FARM TO HAVE 1,567 ACRES

Deal For Site Near Putnamville Will be Closed Soon, According to Commission in Charge.

TO BE NOVEL INSTITUTION

Governor Expected to Name Board of Directors—Inexpensive Quarters For Inmates.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—Details of transfer of the 1,567-acre tract of land near Putnamville to the state of Indiana will be completed within two weeks by the commission appointed to buy the site for the state penal farm. Within that space of time, it is expected, Governor Ralston will have appointed the board of directors of the farm. Funds appropriated by the 1913 legislature are at hand to equip the farm with buildings, stock and machinery. Work will go speedily forward in preparing a novel institution that will lighten the burden of every county and will provide healthful and profitable work for the long-term misdemeanants in the county jails of Indiana. This farm ultimately will take care of from 700 to 1,000 men now in the county jails, according to Amos W. Butler, of the Indiana State Board of Charities.

"With efficient administration it is possible that this farm will solve the problem of the county jail," Mr. Butler told the United Press today. "The county jail is our most serious penological problem. This farm should reduce the number of jail prisoners one-third in ten years. Those who now while away idle hours in jail rather than do profitable labor will be more careful to avoid the jails when it means transfer to the penal farm hard, out-door labor. The number in the reformatories and state prisons will be reduced, for judges will send prisoners to the penal farm rather than to these institutions."

Butler advises against delay in equipping the farm and getting prisoners there. He pointed today to the satisfactory experiences of other states. One, he said, built temporary shacks and sent men to them, and another had the prisoners live in tents from July to December until permanent quarters could be built. The plan for the Indiana farm is to build inexpensive quarters that will, however, be of solid and enduring construction.

W. H. Hart, an attorney here who was on the commission appointed to choose and buy the site, said today that it was universally conceded that one of the very best sites in the state had been obtained for the farm. It is centrally located, he said, has north and south, east and west railroads, and has natural resources that are very valuable. The state, he said, can enter the industry of quarrying lime stone for commercial uses. There is enough lime stone on the farm to last for sixty centuries, he said. It can be used for building highways, ballasting railroad tracks and can be pulverized for sweetening farm land. In addition, the soil is of good quality and can be used to good advantage for farming.

Hart was asked in more detail about the pulverized lime stone industry. He said it had not progressed far before capital had hesitated to venture. He said the state, having inexpensive labor, could make it pay. Several companies in Indiana are doing so now, but the number is limited, he said.

Indiana followed the lead of Canada, the District of Columbia, Massachusetts cities and Cleveland in the penal farm idea, said Hart. The communities had made it pay, he said.

"Confirmed prisoners are now playing cards in the jails at a cost to the county of 40 cents a day. They are a dead loss to the community and in addition are teaching younger prisoners the advanced knowledge of crime," Hart said.

Butler recently declared at the Memphis meeting of the National Prison Congress that Indiana jails are the state scandal. He is optimistic over the prospect that the penal farm will alleviate this situation, and that ultimately the question of the county jail will be solved largely through the penal farm.

'That Million Dollar Look'

Go and See This Wonderful Photo - Play -- to Appear at The Portola Theatre Tonight

At my own private and personal expense, I have brought to this town one of the greatest picture-plays that has ever been produced.

For years I have been waiting and hoping for some book, or play, or sermon that would make clear the powerful lesson that this picture shows. It is a lesson that means greater success—business success, social success, personal success to every man who will take it home to himself—and apply it to his daily living.

I brought this picture to The Portola, because I believe that every red-corporated American man who sees it can reap a profit from it—and become a bigger man through it—and I want to do my share to get it before as many folks right here at home as I can. It's helped me—I want you to enjoy its help, too.

I am not going to spoil your enjoyment, your "thrill" and your excitement by telling you here what the story is. Wait and enjoy the surprise for yourself.

I am simply going to go on record with the statement that it will grip you from the first exposure to the last scene and make you say a hundred times: "Why wasn't this picture ever thought of before?"

Men have lost untold opportunities; have sacrificed dearest ambitions; have handicapped the hopes of years, purely and solely through a lack of the knowledge that this picture vividly and dramatically imparts.

Men have euhred themselves out of big business gains, have closed the doors to countless success chances, have defeated themselves, not only in business, but in politics, in society — YES, EVEN IN LOVE — because they never studied and mastered the lesson that this picture makes clear to them.

If you want to play the game of success skillfully and victoriously; if you want to be a dominating factor in life's power circles—

THEN DON'T FAIL TO SEE "THAT MILLION DOLLAR LOOK" AT THE PORTOLA TONIGHT

IN ADDITION TO THE ABOVE THE PORTOLA WILL SHOW TONIGHT:—

Amusements

The Princess offers a drama "Fraid Cat" for the first picture tonight. Dorothy Kelley and Bobby Connelly are featured and it is said to tell a beautiful story. The second is a drama entitled "The Price of His Honor." Ruth Stonehouse is featured in this one. The last is a Biograph comedy "Hicksville Finest." Tomorrow night the two reel Essanay feature "In the Moon's Ray" will be shown.

The Gem will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a Rex drama "The End of the Feud." Pauline Bush and M. J. McQuarrie are featured. It is said to be a thrilling production. The second is a Joker comedy "The Clutch of Circumstances." The last is a Powers comedy entitled "The Baseball Fan." Tomorrow night the three reel Victor drama "The Bolted Door," with J. Warren Kerrigan will be shown.

One week from tonight the Cabaret minstrel will be given in the Coliseum in the city park. The minstrel is given by the local chapters of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity and the Psi Iota Xi sorority. Practice has been going on in the Coliseum for the past week and the dress rehearsals will begin Monday. The stage was enlarged in order to accommodate the setting of the play. All of the jokes are new and the fun begins as soon as the curtain goes up. The songs are only of the popular ragtime and parodies are given for many of them. One of the features of the evening will be the stage dancing as given by Denning Havens and Miss Ruth Innis. Among the black face waiters are George Hogsett, Earl Osborne, Paul McMahan, Scott Buell, Hale Pearsey and Stanton McBride. The cafe is frequented by many guests and the conversation and songs then take place. The play ends with Patrohen Bill Hardin coming upon the scene and arresting the bunch for having music in the cafe.

Heat Between the Planets.
If there is any exchange of heat between the planets, no human device can measure it, for the bolometer cannot be increased in its delicacy sufficient to detect the minute amount. That is, the platinum wire, the nerve, more sensitive than human nerves, cannot be made any thinner and hold together in use. No influence of the planets upon each other has ever been detected by the most accomplished observers with the most sensitive instruments that can be made, besides two, gravitation and light. It must be that heat from the sun to the planets is absorbed by them, since none comes to the earth by reflection intense enough to be measured by an electric nerve thinner than a spider's thread.—New York American.

Winter.
In the winter nature ceases from her labors and prepares for the great change. The wind sweeps through the great forest with a sound like the blast of a trumpet. The dry leaves whirl in eddies through the air. A fretwork of hoary frost covers the plain. The stagnant water in the pools and ditches is frozen into fantastic figures. In the low hanging clouds the sharp air, like a busy shuttle, weaves her shroud of snow. There is a melancholy and continual roar in the tops of the tall pines like the roar of a cataract. It is the funeral anthem of the dying year.—Longfellow.

The Secret.
At a bal masque a group of girls demanded of a magician:
"Tell us, oh, tell us, how we may remain always young and always beautiful!"
"Humph! Nothing easier," grunted the magician. "Get a million and stay single."—Exchange.

Getting Out From Under.

There has been some gossip for some time that Theodore Roosevelt was too wise a politician to stay with the fast slipping Progressive party and that he would "get out from under it." Gossip often has no foundation, but in this instance it has. Witness the dispatch from London today which says that a noted London throat specialist has barred Colonel Roosevelt from the campaign because of a serious affection of the larynx, caused primarily by his extensive speaking campaign in 1912 and aggravated by his recent trip of exploration in South America when he endured great hardships.

This is said with no idea of reflecting the least on the professional integrity of the London specialist, nor of Colonel Roosevelt, but it is most opportune that he has a legitimate excuse to keep out of the political arena at this stage of the game. Col. Roosevelt needed a way to get out. There is no doubt of that. But he was in so deep that he could not deliberately turn his back on the party to which he gave birth and literally fathered. Roosevelt has seen the trend of political events. He has noted the great slump the Progressive vote has shone in the primaries which have been held in states that his party carried over the Republicans in 1912. It is practically certain that these things had effect on Col. Roosevelt.

It was announced recently that Roosevelt would make an aggressive campaign for Whitman, district attorney in New York City, who will be a Republican candidate for governor. No denial of the story was ever forthcoming from the Colonel. He has done many inconsistent things in his political activities, but never anything so inconsistent as to campaign for a Republican candidate in New York and a Bull Moose candidate in Indiana.

"This is my answer to those who wanted me to go into a campaign," said Col. Roosevelt, describing the conditions of his throat. "If any one expected me to do so, I can not now."

The announcement of the former President's disability was made after he had paid a visit to Sir St. Clair Thompson, professor of laryngology and physician for disease of the nose and throat in King's College Hospital, a specialist whom he had consulted when he was in London in 1910. The exertion of addressing the Royal Geographical Society last night brought about a culmination of the weakness which Col. Roosevelt's friends observed on his arrival in London.

It was on account of throat trouble that he insisted on speaking in a small hall instead of the large one in which the society had wished to hold the meeting in order to accommodate the great number who had sought to obtain seats.

Col. Roosevelt's voice gave him much trouble during the lecture, which was apparent to all in the theater, and toward the end much huskiness developed. For this reason he visited the physician.

Dr. Thompson, after a thorough examination, pronounced the verdict that Col. Roosevelt must not attempt to speak in the open air, or indulge in extended speechmaking under any circumstances for several months. He said that the condition was the result of Col. Roosevelt's last hard campaign, as a primary cause, and that the Brazilian fever, from which the colonel had suffered, affected his throat, settling, as was generally the case in such ailments, on the patient's weakest spot.

Some More Straws.

The eminent statesman, Albert J. Beveridge, should explain while here today for the sixth district rally why there were only 5,359 votes cast by Progressives in the recent Iowa primaries, according to returns today, while the Republicans cast 140,277 and the Democrats 76,413.

But it would hardly be fair for Mr. Beveridge to use the old, old threadbare story that there were no contests within the Progressive party because we note by dispatcehs that there were contests, the Progressive nomination for senator having gone to Casper Schank by a majority of 559.

The highest vote cast for any Republican candidate was in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. The vote was 142,636, which dispatcehs point out with much gusto is about 42,000 less votes than the Republicans cast in the 1912 primaries. It should be remembered that the lines were sharply drawn at that time between Taft and Roosevelt and the partisans on either side brought out the largest primary vote in the history of the state. At that time there had not yet come the division in the ranks of the party.

Dispatcehs do not state the gain of the Republican primary vote over the vote for Taft in the election of 1912. Neither do the dispatcehs state the big slump which the Progressives suffered, as compared with the election of 1912, the only time the party vote was tested all over the state. The loss was heavy.

The Republican has not the figures at hand just now, but they will be forthcoming, and we will find that the people of Iowa are just the same as they are in Pennsylvania, Indiana and other states where primaries have been held this year; they are tired of playing second fiddle for the Democratic party to pass free trade tariff bills that destroy the industries of the United States.

Wheat was the lowest in Chicago yesterday it has been since 1907. This must not be encouraging to farmers, with prospects of a bumper crop this year. But the prediction of John McCardle, the Indianapolis grain dealer, will most certainly come true. The bottom is bound to drop out of grain prices with millions of bushels of corn and wheat being shipped into this country from foreign countries. The farmer who voted against a protective tariff has no one but himself to blame. He may reflect on this later.

Newspaper Profession Sacred Calling as Ministry

By Dr. WASHINGTON GLADDEN of Columbus, O.

THE newspaper profession is as sacred a calling as the ministry. There are four great tasks for American journalism:

FIRST.—TO TEACH PEOPLE TO AVOID EXAGGERATION AND VIOLENT SPEECH.

SECOND.—TO RESIST THE TENDENCIES WHICH DEMENTALIZE DEMOCRACY AND WHICH SUBSTITUTE THE MOB MIND FOR THE DELIBERATE HABIT.

THIRD.—TO HOLD THE POPULAR JUDGMENT FIRMLY TO THE TRUTH THAT CHARACTER AND MANHOOD AND NOT MONEY AND POPULARITY ARE THE CENTRAL VALUES OF HUMAN EXISTENCE.

FOURTH.—TO TURN THE THOUGHTS OF MEN MORE AND MORE FROM THE NEGATIVE VIRTUE OF DETECTING AND EXPOSING THE EVIL TO THE POSITIVE VIRTUE OF DISCERNING AND PRAISING THE GOOD.

The total number of teachers in Illinois public schools in 1913 was 30,565.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

It is especially along the Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey Coast where the largest numbers gather daily, and especially during any of the trial races to witness the tests or sit about on the club porches and gossip. And, take it from one who knows, the gossip is not always about the sea. As an aside, speaking of gossip, no bunch of women ever did so much small-talking about their neighbors and supposed friends as did the little knots of rich old boys who sat on the porches of one of the exclusive clubs off which the Resolute and Vanitie had one of their trial races one day a few weeks back.

There is evidence on every side of the great season of "salt water activity" the Atlantic Coast states ever have known. Just because everyone who considers himself anyone wants to witness the big races next fall, there isn't a yacht club in this section that has not a waiting list as long as your arm. The intense interest also can be seen in the orders for vessels of every description placed in ship and boat yards and on books of yacht brokers.

The yachting fever never was higher. According to the old guard, men who never would have learned the starboard from the port side of a ship if Secretary of the Navy Daniels hadn't ordered them to be called right and left respectively, are buying boats on which to take parties off Sandy Hook to see the American defender race Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV.

One thing that appears to be as certain and inevitable as taxes and death is that Jack Johnson-Owen Moran scrap in Paris one week from Saturday will be a real fight. There was talk of a frame-up—certainly. Theremost always is just before a fight of this calibre. But the only frame-up, if any, will be double crossing that each fighter will try to put over on the other one.

YACHT RACE IS NEXT EVENT

Appears Certain that Battle in Paris Between Johnson and Moran Will be Real Fight

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, June 18.—There'll be no peace or repose of mind for the landlubber until the international yacht races are out of the way. The international polo melee is over. Talk of "crowding" one's opponent, "backhand" strokes and "riding down" the ball have given way before long winded arguments on the merits and demerits of topsails, spinnakers, "reaches," forestaysails and spankers by the rocking chair squadrons which can be founded decreasing the supply of cocktails, highballs and "1910 vintage" on the porches of any of the hundreds of yacht clubs that front the Atlantic from Maine to Florida.

It is especially along the Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey Coast where the largest numbers gather daily, and especially during any of the trial races to witness the tests or sit about on the club porches and gossip. And, take it from one who knows, the gossip is not always about the sea. As an aside, speaking of gossip, no bunch of women ever did so much small-talking about their neighbors and supposed friends as did the little knots of rich old boys who sat on the porches of one of the exclusive clubs off which the Resolute and Vanitie had one of their trial races one day a few weeks back.

There is evidence on every side of the great season of "salt water activity" the Atlantic Coast states ever have known. Just because everyone who considers himself anyone wants to witness the big races next fall, there isn't a yacht club in this section that has not a waiting list as long as your arm. The intense interest also can be seen in the orders for vessels of every description placed in ship and boat yards and on books of yacht brokers.

The yachting fever never was higher. According to the old guard, men who never would have learned the starboard from the port side of a ship if Secretary of the Navy Daniels hadn't ordered them to be called right and left respectively, are buying boats on which to take parties off Sandy Hook to see the American defender race Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV.

One thing that appears to be as certain and inevitable as taxes and death is that Jack Johnson-Owen Moran scrap in Paris one week from Saturday will be a real fight. There was talk of a frame-up—certainly. Theremost always is just before a fight of this calibre. But the only frame-up, if any, will be double crossing that each fighter will try to put over on the other one.

Just put it down that Jack Johnson cares about as much for that championship title as he does for both his eyes and his two legs. His pride in the title is exactly like the pride of the average down south dandy of his glaring lodge regalia on parade.

Jack Johnson, with a super-abundance of confidence and conceit, will tote into that fight on June 27, everything he has in the way of defense and punch. Johnson knows the jeers and howls of delight that would arise from some of 80,000,000 American throats should Moran slip over a sleep-producer.

Johnson also knows and realizes that if he goes in and fights like the Big Black that humbled Jeffries at Reno, and wins, he will have it said of him in spite of his disgusting morality, or rather lack of it, that he is a grand fighter. For that much of his make-up fight lovers will hold admiration. Once more take the tip that Jack Johnson will fight for all that's in him.

Just how much is left in Johnson after a year of Paris life and Paris debauches, remains for Owen Moran to discover. Moran is far above the average fighter in intelligence and intellect. Better, he is a pretty good two-fisted fighting man. But Moran's intelligence and superior intellect has made him map out a course, and carry it through to the best of his ability.

Moran has no idea that he will have it easy for a minute. He believes, on the other hand, and many hold the same theory, that Jack Johnson will furnish Moran with a lot of trouble in the first half of the battle.

Moran wants only to last that long. After that, he says, he expects Johnson's condition to begin to show and to furnish the chance for him to bring the title back to America on a white man's head.

ELKS COMPLETE ALL THE DETAILS

Attention is Paid to Most Minute Arrangements, Including Appointment of Water Boy

"JIMMIE" IS THUS HONORED

Drum Corps Will Lead Parade Leaving Club Rooms Tomorrow Afternoon at 3 O'clock.

Promptly at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at the sound of a bugle and to the tap of a dozen drums the Elks parade will leave the club rooms for the ball park where the "marrieds" and "singles" will engage in a contest extraordinary.

The Elks today had completed practically all arrangements for the game. It was assured that a water boy had been picked, which was the closing detail to be arranged. Francis Moor, chairman of the finance committee, is expecting the largest crowd ever in the Rushville ball park, largely due to the fact that with only a few exceptions every place of business in Rushville will be closed and the assurance that a large number of farmers will be present. A general admission price of twenty-five cents will be charged and the grandstand will be free.

The committee on cool air for the ments for their comfort and entertainment. In the long list of stunts, the fat man's race is attracting the greatest interest outside of the ball game itself. These sprinters have made several long runs and claim to be in good condition. They will do some prancing around tomorrow just to keep in perfect trim. Verne Norris says the only runner he is afraid of is Ed. Lowden. The trainers will not allow the fat fellows to partake of any food tomorrow until the fried chicken dinner to be given in the evening by John W. Anderson's committee on entertainment.

Captain Pearsey of the "singles" says his team will capture the trophy. This has put some ginger in the "marrieds" and Captain Walter Easley immediately went scouting for more stars who can hit the ball and steal bases. He feels very much elated over his success in signing Frank Capp, Earl Moore and Lawrence Root who can play any position on the team.

Mayor Bebout and Carl Gunning will pitch for the "marrieds" and Scott Buell and Frank Lawrence for the "singles."

The drum corps which will lead the parade will be composed of Master Maj. Gen. Alfred Norris, Wilbur Snodgrass, Harold Jones, Fred McGinnis, Dwight VanOsdol, Connell Smith, Jas. Caldwell, Wilbur Cox, Hubert Alexander, Carl Higgs and John Norris.

Wal etRehnhieirm Walter Rheinheimer is being persuaded to sing a very pretty little song entitled, "This is the Life."

George Thomas from Janesville, Wis., who is an enthusiastic Elk, is visiting Chairman Harrie Jones. Mr. Thomas is eligible, as he weighs almost three hundred pounds, to enter the fat man's race and he claims to be "some sprinter too." As he is an old umpire, he may be drafted by the A. B. C. mediators to assist Ben McCready, the official umpire. Chairman Jones announces that the difficulty encountered by Managers Havens and Beale in not being able to agree on an "ump" has been settled at a special meeting of Connersville lodge in selecting Mr. McCready to umpire the game.

John G. Beale has challenged Harrie Jones in a jumping contest which will be worth the price of admission alone that is if it is pulled off. Harrie says he does not take the challenge very seriously, and is sure he can beat John without even the aid of a cane. Lee Pyle says he is willing to give John and Harry a handicap of several feet if they will allow him to get into the contest.

"Jimmie" Young has been designated as "chief waterboy." The beautiful trophy stolen from Betker's shop which will be given to the winning team has been taken from the cabinet and is now on display in Gunn Haydon's window.

A large committee has charge of erecting the various headquarters which will be used for the Justice court, A. B. C. mediators, ambulance corps and the fat men's dressing rooms.

Moore's greenhouse will furnish the decorations and flowers.

WINONA IS READY FOR THIS SEASON

Grounds Rapidly Taking Shape and Most Successful Year for Assembly is Predicted

SEVERAL BIG FEATURE DAYS

(By United Press.)

Winona Lake, Ind., June 18.—The Winona Assembly grounds are rapidly shaping for the season, which begins July 3 and ends August 20. The management has announced that the recent fire, which destroyed twenty-three houses, has not damaged the Assembly property in the least. The homes have been rebuilt with only slight loss to individuals.

The program for the assembly included the name of William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, who will, "unless official business prevents" lecture the evening of August 20. Others down for the addresses are Chas. W. Fairbanks, Prof. R. B. Von Klein Smid, who is connected with the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville; Dr. Ng Poon Chew Chinese lecturer, and many others.

One of the features will be Venetian night, Wednesday, August 5. A brilliant spectacle is promised. "The House That Jack Built" will be presented on two dates early in July with large choruses of children.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF RUSSIAN CZAR

Two Are Killed and 28 Injured When Train on Which Ruler and Family Rode Was Dynamited.

ANARCHISTS ARE BLAMED

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Germany, June 19.—Two persons were killed and 28 injured in an attempt by anarchists to exterminate the Czar of Russia and his entire family near Tasatin, according to official statements of Russian authorities printed here today. The official account of the attempt makes an attempt to dismiss it as a wreck, but this is explained by the fact that attempts on the life of the ruler of Russia are never recognized by the government.

The Czar and his family were near death. According to custom, an ordinary passenger train preceded the regular passenger train when a Russian emperor takes his life in his hands to travel across the country. A terrific explosion overturned the engine and derailed the coaches of the train. No arrests have been made.

HURTY ADVISES AGAINST WORRY

This is First Aid to Sunstroke and Wants all Should to be Calm in Hot Weather

LIST OF DON'TS FOR SUMMER

Patent Medicines, he Declares are all Frauds and There is no Thinning of Blood

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—Worry is first aid to sunstroke. If Hoosiers are to be cool let them be calm, according to the state board of health, which issued for the United Press a bulletin of "Health Don'ts" for hot weather. Flies and dirty milk, shallow wells and fancy foods, foaming glasses and patent medicines are placed in the same class—all of them must be avoided one would keep cool. The bulletin follows:

DON'T permit open vaults, uncovered garbage cans, unprotected manure piles or any decaying filth or litter of any kind about your premises.

DON'T stop with having your own premises clean. Talk it over with your neighbor, with your business men and with your health officials.

DON'T neglect to screen your doors and windows, and see that all food is constantly protected from flies.

DON'T buy food stuffs where flies are kept.

DON'T forget to keep your windows open day and night, especially at night.

DON'T take patent medicines to "thin your blood." Patent medicines are frauds. Blood does not need thinning, and dope will not "thin the blood" anyway.

DON'T eat too much. Cornaco, who was a dissipated wreck at 40, declared that most persons ate twice as much as was good for them, reformed his manner of eating and lives to be 100 to prove his declaration.

DON'T drink too much especially cold drinks and alcoholic stimulants. Grogging with fancy foods and flooding with fancy drinks will cause any stomach to balk.

DON'T drink water from any spring or brook unless you are sure it is free from sewage.

DON'T drink water from shallow wells. They are usually contaminated.

DON'T live in a hotel or farm house that swarms with flies. Flies carry typhoid.

DON'T drink milk from a dirty dairy. Dirty dairies are kept by dirty dairymen, and the milk from dirty dairies is usually dangerous.

DON'T go on your vacation without first being vaccinated against typhoid. Remember vacation time is typhoid time.

First, last and all the time, don't worry and don't fail to exercise common sense. Worry is FIRST AID to sunstroke. Common sense will prevent most summer calamities.

MEDIATION IS GREAT BUSINESS

Sometimes the Dignity of the Diplomats is Painful and Again
it is Laughable.

A DAY'S WORK IS OUTLINED

It is Some Sport, With no Thought as to Expense—Daily Living
Expense is $1,400.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 18.—As mediation now swings on through conversation after conversation and conference after conference, this neck of the woods is a dull and uninteresting spot for Mr. Ordinary Man. Far back through the ages the cry of all revolutionists has been to restore the lands to the poor peon of Mexico, but if a poor peon showed up around the Clifton Hotel where they are now endeavoring to settle his affairs he would probably not only lose his lands, but his shirt.

It is pay, pay, pay and the mediators and delegates to the mediation conference are paying at a lively rate. When it is all put down in cold figures the cost of the conference here will be astounding. After the first flurry when special correspondents and near-diplomats from every direction flocked into Niagara Falls the colony has now simmered down, until there are approximately 56, including the mediators and their suites, the Americans, Mexicans and newspaper correspondents. A conservative estimate of the average cost of "mediating" to each of these 56 is $25 a day in hotel bills, meals and automobile hire. This makes the average daily, ordinary "living expenses" of the colony $1,400 per day. Figuring on this basis mediation in the Mexican trouble has cost $39,200. But war for the same length of time would have cost far more, not to mention casualties.

This does not, of course, include the salaries of clerks and the various secretaries of the three mediators, the American and Mexican delegation. There is also the inestimable amount spent in telegraph tolls by newspapers: the cost of transmitting long code messages between the Prospect House and Washington; similar messages received and sent from Mexico City and the communication the mediators have had with their own countries. But mediating is a great little sport with no time for thought as to expenses. The following is the general scheme of mediation as followed at Niagara Falls:

At 11 o'clock each morning da Gama, of Brazil, Naon, of Argentina and Suarez, of Chili, go to their conference room. There is no set schedule for the holding of conversations with the Mexican or American delegates. Sometimes an engagement may be made in advance, but not often. After gathering in the conference room and diplomatically discussing the carpet on the floor or the weather, the Mexicans or Americans may be invited to appear or ask that they be heard. If it is the Americans who are to be heard, the State Department chauffeur is aroused from the rear seat of his machine and he rolls up in front of the Prospect House. Justice Lamar, Frederick W. Lehmann and their secretary H. Percival Dodge, followed by Robert F. Rose, ponderous representative of the State Department, enter.

The car progresses from the Prospect House to the Bridge where the envoys Dodge, Rose and the chauffeur pay ten cents each to pass on to Canada. The car circles the Clifton Hotel. Across the river the Falls are roaring and glistening in the sunlight. Stopping at the door the mediation delegation alights, diplomatically and with great dignity. Judge Lehmann, however, can't suppress a laugh and so he laughs. Newspapermen greet the delegates and learn nothing. They enter the elevator, ascend to the conference room, the doors are closed and mediation is on.

The secret service guard at the Clifton has been reduced by two men, but whenever a conversation is in progress a pair of the King's sleuths pace back and forth before the door. They march solemnly and with dignity befitting the occasion. After a time the American delegates come down stairs. Justice Lamar may or may not have something to say.

He is extremely careful of every word he uses. He talks slowly and with extreme caution. When he is through the job of the newspaper men is to decide what he meant.

Justice Lamar compares the work of the correspondents here to fishing in a bath tub. When there are no developments, he will say:

"Now, there really are no fish in this tub. There is nothing to say."

At other times he will declare: "There are fish in the tub this time all right, but I can't tell you what they are." Interviewed alone the Justice is very pleasant. It seems actually to pain him sometimes that he cannot answer questions asked him.

When the Mexicans confer with the mediators they do not cause as much fuss about the hotel as the Americans. Having their rooms on the same floor as the conference room they slip in or out without attracting any attention.

Family Boat of the Eskimo.
The oomiak may be described as the "family boat" of the Eskimo. It is used by the men in whale and walrus hunting and by the whole family during their annual summer trips, which they make to gather the winter store of fish and berries. Then it presents a spectacle not soon forgotten. Crowded to the gunwales with a mixed assortment of men, women, children and dogs, together with piles of provisions and hides and all the impediments of camping, it moves slowly along. A sail of white and colored drilling, sewn in alternate strips, or even of patched skins, assists the laboring vessel through the water. Some of the occupants paddle when they feel like it, others scan the shore or watch the water rippling from the stern. If progress is too slow even for the Eskimo the dogs are put ashore, a stout line of walrus hide is attached to the bow, and they tow the boat along. Such parties are away all summer, or, rather, during the three months' interval which is not winter—a brief, beautiful season of unending delight.—Wide World Magazine.

Shift Your Gears!
If I were going to attempt a sermon (and who does not feel himself capable of at least a couple?), my first test should be upon the theme, "Shifting Gears." I should begin with a pertinent illustration. It would be the picture of a motorcar and a long hill. You size up the hill from the bottom and attempt it on the high gear. The grade proves to be steeper than at first thought. The engines begin to pound. But you have vowed to make the top on the high gear. By simply shifting over, with whatever reluctance, all would be well. Instead, you let the engine fret and throb, perhaps stall itself or wreck something, for your pride's sake. This the picture. Then the moral application (which every one has seen coming all along). "Now, good friends, isn't this just what we are trying to do? Are we not playing the foolish chauffeur and wearing out our engines needlessly, when we attempt to take all life's roads upon the high speeds? Shift your gears before it is too late."—E. P. Frost, in the Atlantic Monthly.

Thirsty Berlin.
A census taken in Berlin at the duller time of the evening, between half past 5 and half past 8, showed that during these three hours ninety-eight drinking places were visited by 23,430 persons. It must not be supposed that there are only ninety-eight drinking places in Berlin. On the contrary, a single street, the Blumenstrasse, which contains only eighty-four houses, has forty saloons and an inn, and there is actually a street in East Berlin, the Madaistrasse, which, with only fifteen houses, has seventeen saloons and three hotels. There is very little drunkenness to be seen in the streets of Berlin, and one must stay up late to see that, but that is not because the thing is not abundant, but because the police will not tolerate any kind of disorder in public.—London Tatler.

MRS. WINN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

Kansas City, Mo.—“The doctors told me I would never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on one foot. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had not finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and I took it until it made me sound and well, and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine to other women who suffer when I have an opportunity.” — Mrs. H. T. WINN, 1225 Fremont Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Read What Another Woman says: Cumming, Ga.—“I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicines and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter.” — Mrs. CHARLIE BAGLEY, R. 3, Cumming, Ga.

Weak Folks Made Strong

People ask us for a remedy that will make them strong again—

There's no such medicine on earth. Good food, plenty of it, properly digested, is what makes strength.

But we have a remedy that will make you hungry three times a day—so hungry that you can hardly wait for mealtime.

That's just what you weak folks need—if you could just get a good appetite again. Nature would do the rest for you.

We know that

Penslar

is just the thing to build you up by making you eat. The formula is on the label—the makers want people to know what is in it. Nothing strong, nothing harmful, just a scientific appetizer made by a great firm of chemists. The price is $1.00.

Do You Wear a Truss?

If so you know how annoying it is to have an ill fitting one. I pride myself on being able to adjust a truss properly. It is more in the adjustment of a truss than in the truss itself that makes it a comfort to wear. Let me fit your next one. It must be right or I do not want your money.

CANADA GAINS ON THIS COUNTRY

Imports and Exports Reach 1,095 Million Dollars in 1913 as Against 977 in 1912

IMPORTS ON THE DECLINE

Which Indicates, with Increase in Aggregate, that Exports are Division Gaining.

Washington, June 18.—Canada is now a "billion-dollar country" its aggregate imports and exports of merchandise in 1913 having been 1,095 million dollars, against 977 million in 1912. Its trade has, however, undergone some contraction in more recent months, a fact which clearly reflected in the official statistics of merchandise moving between Canada and the United States during April, compiled by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce.

In the calendar year 1913 Canada's imports of merchandise were 659 million dollars in value while her exports were 436 million, imports thus averaging 55 million and exports 36 million dollars per month. Canadian imports, however, are sharply declining from month to month, the total having been 68 million dollars in March 1913, 61 million in May, 58 million in August, 50 million in November, and 38½ million in February, 1914, the smallest total shown in any month within the last two years. Exports of domestic products from Canada during October, November and December last, following the passage of the American tariff law now in force, rose to about 57 million dollars per month, but in January, 1914, had fallen to 25 million, and in February to less than 21 million. The temporary bulge in the October-December period reflected the unusually large shipments to the United States of flaxseed, hides, and printing paper, and of cattle, cream and other foodstuffs transferred to the free list by the above-mentioned law, effective on and after October 4th last.

American goods represented in the fiscal year 1913, 65 per cent of the entire imports of Canada, while the markets of the United States absorbed 39½ per cent of the Canadian products sold in foreign countries. A year ago we were selling to Canada over four times as much as we bought from her, while we are now selling a little more than twice as much as we buy in our trade with the Dominion.

Particulars with respect to the kinds and quantities of merchandise exported to Canada during April and the 10 months ended with April are not yet available, but the March figures afford a reliable basis as to the present trend of trade. During the nine months ended with March we imported from Canada 210,481 head of cattle, compared with 26,018 head in the corresponding period a year earlier. Similar comparisons give the following results: 2,738 head of horses, as against 1,206; 3 million pounds of combing wool, as against 193,000 pounds; 398 million pounds of wood pulp, as against 370 million; 6½ million bushels of flaxseed against 3¾ million; 398 million pounds of printing paper for books and newspapers, against 193 million; 140 thousand tons of iron ore, against 99 thousand; 3¾ million pounds of calf and kip skins, against 3 million pounds of sheepskins against 1½ million; 746 thousand tons of bituminous coal, against 1 million; 24 million pounds of copper in ore, against 25 million; 24 million pounds of copper in pigs, ingots, etc., against 27 million; and 1½ million dollars' worth of undressed furs, against 1¾ million; furs, coal and copper being only articles in the list showing decreased imports in the period ended with March, 1914, when compared with a like period of the preceding fiscal year.

The articles exported to Canada from the United States are too numerous for enumeration within the limits of a brief discussion. Representative items, however, include agricultural implements, 2½ million dollars, compared with 4¾ million in the 9 months of 1913; cattle, 5,526 head, against 2,554 last year; corn, 3½ million bushels, against 7 million; wheat, 2½ million bushels, against three-quarters of a million; automobiles, 2,687, against 4,919; Canada being a marked exception to the rule of increased exports in this line; passenger and freight cars, 4¾ million dollars, against 4 million; coal 12½ million tons, against 12½ million; cotton cloth, 15 million yards against 20 million; locomotives, 72, against 118; steel rails, 102 thousand tons, against 86 thousand; tin plates, 50 million pounds, against 79 million; boots and shoes, 1,223,197 pairs, against 1,158,213; bacon and hams, 12½ million pounds, against nearly 10 million; and wool manufactures, 9½ million dollars, against 11½ million.

Argentine is taking a general census.
